

Canadians buy Royalton units

Canadian investors have purchased the remaining condominiums at the Royalton at River Oaks for $40 million, the investor group's managing partner said Friday.

The 33-story building, on Allen Parkway near Waugh, has 253 units, and the investor group bought more than 80 from Las Vegas-based Hallier Properties, Group LSR spokeswoman Chris Treleaven said.

The units in the Royalton, which was built as an apartment building, will be resold.

They are listed at prices from $375,000 to $2 million.
